Governor Mills Issues Proclamation for Fire Prevention Day on October 9, 1911; Important Matters.

Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 25.—Governor William J. Mills today issued a proclamation naming Oct. 9 fire prevention day in which he calls attention to the enormous loss caused by fires in New Mexico and which he attributes largely to carelessness.

The proclamation is one which will arouse interest throughout the territory. It is as follows:

Fire Prevention Day.

Proclamation by the Governor:
The great annual loss of life and property by fire in this country is one that should command the serious attention of our citizens. The per capita loss in New Mexico during the past year from fires is over one dollar to every man, woman and child within our borders. The chief factor responsible for this loss is carelessness and the utter lack of personal responsibility in the removal of causes productive of fire.

For the Treasury.

Territorial Treasurer M. A. Otero has received the sum of $166 from Game and Fish Warden P. Gable.

At Half Mast.

Through a slip in the rope the flag on the capitol today dropped to half mast, but it was quickly hoisted to full mast. Judge A. L. Morrison was among those who called the attention of the capitol authorities to the flag's flight.

Change in Messenger.

Charles J. Eckert has resigned as messenger in the U. S. Weather Bureau to take a position in the First National Bank. He has been succeeded by J. C. Feldman, temporarily, until a civil service examination can be held.

Work on Albuquerque Road.

The Good Roads commission through Territorial Engineer Charles D. Miller has offered to make an additional appropriation of $100 for the road between Albuquerque and Altagones if Bernalillo county gives $1,800, the total being deemed sufficient to finish the line that will complete a good road from the Duke City to the capital.
